Friedrichshain-Kreuzberg

Say No to Forced Marriage!

According to German law is forbidden to force someone into a marriage against his or her will. You can say NO to Forced Marriage!

The Universal Declaration of Human Right from 1948 states: Marriage shall be entered into only with the free and full consent of the intending spouses.”

Article 16(2)

Forced marriages violates fundamental human rights well as numerous other laws, treaties and declarations in many countries.

Forced marriage is a form of gender specific violence against girls and women. Love does not grow out of compulsion

What you can do if someone wants to force into marriage:

1. Tell your parents and relatives as soon as possible, if you do not want to get married. Don't wait until the wedding party is planned and the invitations are sent.
2. Call on someone you trust- a friend, family member, neighbour, or teacher and ask them for support and help.
3. Contact one of the counselling centers listed below. The staff is experienced in helping victims of forced marriage.

They will not tell your family. Advice is completely confidential. They can give you advice on your options as well as information on safe places. They will help advice you on what to do in your particular situation.
