Children and young people with existing or anticipated disabilities are entitled to integration support (Eingliederungshilfe).

This refers to support services that help to

- promote healthy development,
- enable participation in a wide range of activities,
- support more independent living.

Who can contact us

We provide advice on the services available for all types of disability to:

- young people,
- parents,
- guardians and legal representatives,

How we can help you

Service advisors are from the Youth Welfare Office and provide independent, free advice and support to help you navigate these key areas:

- Support and assistance services
- Eligibility for benefits
- Legal rights
- Help with the application process
- Accompanying you to appointments at agencies or advice centres upon request
