

Berlin Fashion Week launches final schedule

Berlin, January 15, 2026 – From Friday, January 30 to Monday, February 2, 2026, the international fashion industry will once again turn its attention to Berlin. Berlin Fashion Week presents a curated programme of fashion shows, formats and events, setting its own tone in the international fashion week calendar. The final schedule provides an overview of all participating labels and formats for the fall/winter 2026 season.

With a total of 42 shows and presentation formats, Berlin Fashion Week brings together established designers and promising newcomers. The winners of the Berlin Contemporary concept competition are also part of the programme: Andrej Gronau, BALLETSHOFER, BUZIGAHILL, DAGGER, GmbH, Haderlump Atelier Berlin, Ioannes, John Lawrence Sullivan, Kasia Kucharska, Kenneth Ize, Laura Gerte, Lou de Bètoly, MARKE, Orange Culture, PLNGNS, Richert Beil, SF1OG, Sia Arnika and William Fan.

Designed as a competition, RAUM.Berlin presents its second edition with interdisciplinary fashion productions at a central location on Potsdamer Platz. The programme is complemented by established formats such as INTERVENTION by Reference Studios at Kraftwerk Berlin and NEWEST by the NOWADAYS agency at Macherei in Kreuzberg.

Berlin Fashion Week kicks off the evening before with the FAZ Fashion Reception. At the same time, the exhibition openings ‘Fashion x Craft: Echoes of Tomorrow’ and ‘Gallery Looks: Fashion Staging at the Gemäldegalerie’ will take place. The group exhibition DER BERLINER SALON also returns to the Gemäldegalerie this season. With the talk format METAMORPHOSIS – dialogues about change, the Fashion Council Germany is once again expanding the programme with a content format that focuses on current issues in the fashion industry.

The official Berlin Fashion Week schedule covers shows, presentations, installations, showrooms and accompanying events in numerous locations across the city. Venues include Schöneberg Town Hall, the Wintergarten Varieté, Bunker West, Feuerle Collection, Kindl Brewery, CANK, Kraftwerk and NLND.

Fashion Week will conclude with a closing cocktail party on Monday evening where the finalists of the FCG/VOGUE Fashion Fund will be announced and exhibited.

Accreditation for Berlin Fashion Week is open until 19 January. Shuttle buses will again be available this season for press and industry experts, servicing each show location. The final schedule, along with details about side events and shows, is available on the official Berlin Fashion Week website: fashionweek.berlin/en/official-schedule.html
